Employment

Labor Concerns

There is a risk of employees claiming that they are entitled to compensation for loss of rights under the Plan where the Plan is amended or discontinued or where their employment is terminated.

There are laws which prohibit discrimination against, and/or less favorable treatment of, employees on certain grounds, including age, gender, disability and part-time status. Companies should be mindful of this when determining the eligibility of employees to participate in a Plan, the benefits being granted and the exercise of any discretion.

Communications

A disclaimer should be included in the award agreement, which acknowledges each employee's receipt of the Plan documents and the discretionary nature of the Plan, and confirms that termination of employment will result in the loss of unvested rights.

Government filings must be made in English.

Electronic execution of award agreements may be acceptable under certain conditions, which are not onerous.

Regulatory

Securities Compliance

Neither the grant nor the exercise of Options is likely to trigger any prospectus requirements.

Foreign Exchange

There are no foreign exchange restrictions applicable to the Plan.

Data Protection

Processing of employee data for purposes directly connected to the employment relationship can generally be justified on the basis that the processing is necessary to fulfill the contract of employment. Purposes outside that category need to be assessed on a case-by-case basis, and opt-in consent may be required in some cases.

Tax

Employee Tax Treatment

An employee is generally subject to income tax on the gain on exercise (i.e., the excess of the market value of the Stock acquired over the aggregate exercise price). Capital gains tax is also payable on any gain upon the net proceeds of sale of the Stock, subject to reduction by an individual annual allowance.

Social Security Contributions	Social security contributions are generally due from both the Subsidiary and the employee on all income received, except in very limited circumstances. The Subsidiary may transfer its liability to pay social security contributions to the employee, but only with the employee's prior written consent.
Tax-Favored Program	Favorable tax treatment is available for Plans which satisfy certain legislative requirements and have been registered with HM Revenue & Customs. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) Company Share Option Plan (“CSOP”): Options granted under a CSOP are exempt from income tax on exercise, subject to certain conditions, including that the Options are not exercised for three years from grant (except in certain “good leaver” circumstances) and employees do not hold CSOP Options over Stock with a value at grant in excess of £30,000. On exercise, only capital gains tax is payable on any gain upon the sale of Stock. (ii) Save As You Earn Plan (“SAYE”): SAYE may be regarded as a hybrid stock purchase and option plan where savings are accumulated over a three or five year period. Generally, neither income tax nor social security contributions are payable on exercise under a qualifying SAYE plan. Only capital gains tax will be payable on any gain upon the sale of Stock. (iii) Enterprise Management Incentives (“EMI”): EMI Options are available to smaller companies, although these are subject to various limitations and are likely only to have limited scope for Issuers. Where EMI Options are used, tax can be deferred until sale, provided that the EMI Options have been granted at an option price equivalent to mark value. On sale, capital gains tax will be payable at lower rates because Entrepreneurs Relief will automatically apply.
Withholding and Reporting	The Subsidiary has an obligation to withhold the income tax and social security contributions arising, save in very limited circumstances. Reporting requirements apply to both the Subsidiary and the employee.
Employer Tax Treatment	Provided certain conditions are met, the Subsidiary may be entitled to statutory corporation tax relief based on the market value of the Stock at the date of exercise less the exercise price.
